

Willis and Glass Hurl 1 and 1 Tie

Memphis, April 27.—Willis of the Nashville Elite Giants, and Glass, crack southpaw of the Memphis Red Sox, hooked up yesterday in a hurling duel which darkness ended when the count was one-all. The visitors were able to rap Glass for five bingles while Willis was allowing the locals only three.

The Elite Giants opened the fireworks in the ninth inning, their tally being due to a double by Willis, a sacrifice and an infield out.

The Red Sox came back in their half of the ninth and pushed across a counter to knot things up when Brown scored Mellaskell with a single to center.

Wright of the Elite Giants and Harris of the Red Sox were the leading sensations of the game. The latter arrived in time for the game and was sent to shortstop instead of Diels, who cavorted in the middle garden.
